EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

- Executive Summary: AI & Design Research (October 2, 2026)
- Expansion of MCP Ecosystem: The Model Context Protocol (MCP) saw rapid enterprise adoption, with Sigo Seguros enabling direct insurance transactions via AI agents, Nasdaq Calypso launching an agentic trade-lifecycle framework, and Alethea integrating its Artemis threat intelligence directly into LLMs like Claude and ChatGPT.
- Infrastructure for Agentic Performance: To reduce latency and costs, AWS released the Strands Decider 2B, a lightweight "System 1" decision model that offloads routine logic from resource-heavy LLMs, while SEOSiri upgraded its 19 MCP servers to support sub-millisecond RAM hot-tiering and production-grade security.
- Enterprise Sovereignty & Governance: IBM introduced self-hosted deployment for its Bob platform, allowing firms to execute AI-driven software development entirely within secure, private infrastructure, meeting stringent data sovereignty requirements.
- Design Workflow Efficiency: Framer launched "Skills," a feature enabling designers to save and reuse complex instruction sets, design systems, and CMS workflows, ensuring AI agents maintain consistency across large-scale design projects.
- Emergence of Specialized Benchmarking: The introduction of Argo-Bench (detailed in the October 1 research paper) provides a critical new standard for measuring AI agent performance within complex, real-world enterprise environments, such as multi-stage food-delivery operations.
